IIC develops smart digital products for hospitals and healthcare organizations—covering enterprise strategy and execution, medical services automation, and governance.

Our products also enable AI-powered home and mobile healthcare models and support the delivery of telemedicine services in accordance with the highest technical, data privacy, and cybersecurity standards.

Modern Healthcare

Wherever You Are... Whenever You Need It

MADAD plus is an integrated digital healthcare platform that leverages artificial intelligence and advanced medical technologies to deliver high-quality healthcare services from the nearest service provider. The platform integrates a patient app for requesting healthcare services, AI-connected preventive diagnostic devices, and direct connectivity with hospitals, medical centers, qualified physicians, and insurance providers.

For Seniors

Medical checkups and diagnostic tests delivered without the need to visit crowded hospitals

For People with Disabilities and Special Needs

Home-based medical services delivered directly to residences or rehabilitation facilities

For Residents of Congested Cities

Avoid road traffic and long hospital waiting times through mobile healthcare services via the MADAD app and AI-powered preventive diagnostic devices

Across Distant Villages and Small Towns

Instead of traveling for treatment, mobile healthcare comes directly to you with AI-powered preventive diagnostic devices, followed by an online consultation with the specialist of your choice—wherever they are

Healthcare designed around people accessible, proactive, and uncomplicated
